ARE WORTHY PERSONS DESTITUTE IN POCHE?

We all know that the city is now cursed with a number of begging loafers, too lazy to work and not courageous enough to steal—at least they have not been convicted of larceny. But are there meritorious persons in the city, suffering from destitution?—who are out of means, unable to get employment, without acquaintance, and too high-spirited and honorable to beg or steal? We fear there are such. A middle-aged man entered our office yesterday morning, when the fierce tempest was filling the air with clouds of snow, and requested the privilege of warming by the stove. He was modest in demeanor, a man of frank, open countenance, and, when pressed to explain the cause of his being out of bed at that hour and in such a night he reluctantly said that he was out of money and utterly destitute—that he was willing to work at anything, but could find no employment. He left about daylight, having accepted a dollar to get his breakfast. We believe that man is no bilk. Men willing to work should not be allowed to suffer in Picoche. We would suggest to those employing men that good, worthy laborers may suffer from the great number of "dead beats" in our midst. Distinctions should be drawn; good men are liable in this expensive, far-away section to get into straitened circumstances.

SKILLFUL SURGICAL OPERATION.

A skillful surgical operation was yesterday performed at the County Hospital by Dr. Deal, assisted by Dr. Philson. Everett Felt had been afflicted from boyhood with diseased bone of the left leg, the center of the affection being about three inches below the knee-joint. An abscess had formed, and a fungus growth as large as an ordinary hand was exposed when the operation was performed. The patient was put under the influence of chloroform, when about ten minutes were occupied in the operation. The tibia was found to be dead and covered with abnormal excrescence for six inches, extending from the knee downwards. The excrescence and dead matter were all removed as far as possible to be traced from the character of the operation. It is an extreme case of the kind, and this was a resort to save the leg of the unfortunate man, if possible; but the surgeons are not yet positive that amputation can be avoided. The operation was a perfect success. Mr. Felt is a man 38 years of age, of fair constitutional vigor, and there is reasonable hope, we think that the fearful affliction which has so long made life a burden to him will trouble him no more after he again gets on his feet.

THE MYSTERY EXPLAINED.

The woman who was seen, last Saturday morning, lying out in front of the express office, seems to have been foully dealt with. Being out the night before, at a social gathering, she was induced, she says, to drink of wine, that a narcotic had been put into; and further, that the parties who drugged the wine were escorting her home when she became stupefied, and left her on the sidewalk. She says it was all done through petty, malicious spite, and that she can prove, and will, if called upon to do so, the truth of this statement. We are assured that she is an industrious and virtuous lady, and that her character has never been called in question.

A COUNTY MINERAL CABINET.

We should like to hear of the establishment of a county mineral cabinet in Picoche. Specimens, we have no doubt, would be freely contributed, and it would in time grow into great value. Strangers visiting Southeastern Nevada would thus be enabled, at a glance, to form some idea of the vast and varied mineral resources of Lincoln county. If the County Commissioners would provide the cabinet and solicit contributions, we are confident it would soon grow into one of the most extensive and complete mineral depositories in the State. It would cost but little to try the experiment.

SEEKING IMPRISONMENT.

A man released from the county jail last Monday returned the next night, late, and asked to be re-admitted, saying it was the only home he had and that he didn't want any other. He seemed greatly down-hearted when the jailer told him the law forbade turning the key on any one who had not been convicted of or was not charged with any offense. He walked sulkily away, and was found the next morning lying under a bench in the District Court-room, his only bedding being the matting which covered the floor.

There are twelve prisoners in the County Jail—two under State Prison sentence.

FIRST IRON FOUNDRY OF EASTERN NEVADA IN OPERATION.

Day before yesterday heat was applied to the cupola of the railroad foundry at Bullionville, for the first time—though the other machinery had been running on work for the Raymond & Ely Mining Company several days. The first castings were principally 400-pound couplings and 200-pound boxes for that company. Considering that it was the first heat, with moulding, floor and everything else new, it was a complete success. The cupola is 30 inches in diameter and 12 feet high, its capacity being from 3,500 to 6,000 pounds. Connected with the establishment are an engine-lathe, boring mill, drill press, and a full plant of tools. The next heat shoes and dies will be cast for quartz mills, and considerable railroad work done. Those having the supervision of the work are confident the castings of the Bullionville foundry will be as good as the best Eastern make. Robert Gill is foreman and moulder; W. E. Sinclair, pattern-maker, and Nicholas Remfrey, machinist.

ARRIVAL OF THE REMAINS OF THOMAS RYAN IN NEW YORK.

We clip the following from the New York Herald of the 13th inst: The remains of Thomas Ryan, twenty-seven years of age, who was shot through the head by James Levy during a quarrel in Picoche City, Nev., about the 1st of January last, arrived in this city yesterday, and being unaccompanied by a certificate of death the matter was referred to Coroner Herman for investigation. Mr. Ryan lived in Meriden, Conn., and his remains have been taken thither for interment. Levy, the alleged murderer, is under arrest in Nevada, awaiting his trial. Ryan, who was a single man, went to Nevada about two years ago in search of a fortune among the mines.

A SUGGESTION.

We yesterday noticed the unfortunate man, George McKean, who lost his eye-sight by a blast in the Peacock mine, some weeks ago, walking the streets in charge of a friend. What shall we do in the way of giving this unfortunate but most exemplary young man a substantial benefit? George McKean is an individual of more than ordinary sensitiveness as well as intelligence, would ask nothing in charity, and we should like to see a general movement of some kind which would result in giving him ample means to go, comfortably and independently, to his family and friends.

A VALUABLE SPRING BED.

We have tried one of the new spring beds of E. A. Friend & Co., Meadow Valley street, and know that they are all that the inventors claim for them. They are the easiest, springiest, and from all points of view, most desirable and comfortable devices in the shape of a bed we have yet tried, and at a price within the reach of all. Feathers are fairly discounted by them. Whoever tries one will find out that we don't exaggerate their merits.

DEATH OF PETER DUFFY.

Peter Duffy, who had been suffering for two or three weeks from cerebral spinal fever, died, at the County Hospital, yesterday morning, about three o'clock. He was removed to the institution last Saturday, being very low at the time. He was about 25 years of age, and a native of County Down, Ireland. He formerly lived at Eureka. He will be buried to-day at 4 o'clock. Friends and acquaintances are invited to attend.

WATER WORKS JACK

appeared before his Honor, yesterday, and pleaded his cause with such fervor and so earnestly promised better conduct in the future, that it would have been an insult to all the special pleaders in the State to have punished him further. He was discharged, and we hope he will hereafter be a water-works man in principle as well as name.

RETURNED.

John C. Lynch, a pioneer of Picoche and one of our most enterprising citizens, has returned from his long extended visit to his old home in Kentucky and through the Atlantic States. He never looked better, and is as much pleased to find himself back in his mountain home as his friends are to again shake his honest paw.

RUSSELL SCOTT'S PALACE CLUB-ROOMS.

Russell Scott has made an important improvement to his elegant club-rooms in the shape of a revolving air valve. It is as unique as useful. The public are invited to call and see the wonderful invention. He has applied for a patent. It comes as near a perpetual motion as anything yet put in operation.

STILL ANOTHER.

Yesterday afternoon a man was lying drunk, just below Wilson's restaurant. He was an aged man. Which would be the cheapest, for the county, to pay for keeping these fellows in confinement in the calaboose, or pay for their burial? If the first is not done, the latter usually has to be.

MR. FOLKS, Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, informs us that the new addition to the County Hospital was completed yesterday. It is 10x20 feet in dimensions, and well lighted. It is a most necessary improvement, and one that should have been made months ago.

ALL RIGHT AGAIN.

Guy Thorpe, in the banking and W. B. Daugherty, in the express department of Wells, Fargo & Co., have both recovered from their late indisposition, and are again attending to their respective departments.

THE GREAT CONTINENTAL STORM.

The great continental storm yesterday ought to have been foretold, if there is any virtue in the telegraphic weather signal system, under the supervision of the Government. Was it prognosticated?

POSTOFFICE IMPROVEMENT.

Postmaster Barnes has cabinet makers at work making important changes in the post-office preparatory to putting in his new lock boxes, of which there will be three hundred.

THE ONLY BUSINESS TRANSACTED IN THE DISTRICT COURT

yesterday was empanelling the jury in the case of J. Coburn vs. Wm. Newman, suit on attachment. The case will be tried to-day.

OUR FRIEND JOHNNY C. CLARK, of the fashion, who has been indisposed for some days, is, we are pleased to hear, fully recovering.

THEATER.—As we anticipated in yesterday's issue, last night the house was crowded in all parts, several having to go away who wanted front seats and had not secured them through the day. The play of "Frou Frou" is decidedly the most attractive that has yet been placed on the stage, both for its intrinsic merit, regarding plot, etc., as well as display of elegant toilets.—Mrs. Bates having changed dresses for every act of the play. The portrayal of the light, giddy, frivolous woman of fashion in the first two acts, of the same character, after falling from her high sphere through imagined wrong from both her husband and sister, then of her sojourn at Venice and her return to her dishonored home, were each and all worked out with the light and shade of a finished artist. Space prevents notice of other characters until our next issue. All did exceedingly well, and "Frou Frou" will have another crowded house to-night, which will be the last appearance of the distinguished artists, Mr. and Mrs. Bates. We are informed that Manager Maguire has made very liberal offers to induce these celebrities to play another two weeks' engagement; we trust he will be successful in his efforts to retain them, and in saying so much we only express the public desire.

HOSE HOUSE NEEDED.

The hose and hose carriage purchased by the citizens, of Picoche, which cost about $3,000, are, we notice, lying out exposed to the weather. True, there is a sort of roof over them, but that amounts to nothing in Picoche storms, when the winds cause the snow and rain to seud along the surface of the earth as frequently as they descend from the clouds. And the roof, any way, is not water-proof. A few months more of such exposure will utterly ruin the hose, and greatly injure the carriage. Cannot the County Commissioners provide a house in which they would be kept dry and secure? We would suggest that the two fire companies unite in a petition for an appropriation to the Fire Department sufficient to build a house on the lot belonging to the department.

NEW EDITORIAL ROOM.

We are now in our new editorial room, and feel properly jubilant thereat. Within this neat and cosy retreat we shall be glad, at all times, to meet our friends and work up for publication such information in regard to the country's development and the general progress of events as they may favor us with. Friends from the neighboring districts are especially invited to call on us when they visit the city. Everybody is welcome but habitual loafers, the presence of whom can be tolerated most anywhere else better than in an editorial room.

It is not true that a Picoche man sent a thermometer down to Bullionville, yesterday morning, to show a warm-weather-ennervated fellow down there how cold it was up here. The story is pronounced a hoax by the man who bought the instrument. He didn't send it because he found, when he took it in by his big stove, that "it wouldn't run regularly."

ASH WEDNESDAY.—To-day being Ash
